Tag fire that destroys Zobak, valuable antiques, suspicious

A spectacular fire . "of suspicious origin" destroyed a three story wood building, 30 by 60 feet, in a subdivision off of North Ave., late Thursday, May

The old turn of the century hotel part of Club Zobak, a private ethnic club located almost across from the old Norshore Resort which burned last year, was 90 percent engulfed in flames when the Antioch Fire Dept, arrived at 11:30 p.m.

According to Antioch Fire Chief William Carney, the fire spread to the trees and grass covering over an acre of ground before it was completely extinguished, two-and-one-half hours

Witnesses told of an explosion that preceded the building bursting into

The building, was considered to be an area landmark, built in 1914 by club members who started the 12-acre weekend retreat in 1893.

The club presently has 19 members, who with their families, spend weekends in the summer and winter on the acreage which also contains cottages and a large clubhouse, said club member Paul Hruby of Berwyn, who added that the club would rebuild the building.

Estimates of the dollar amount of the damage were not available but according to Hruby the building "was loaded" with valuable antiques.

The Round Lake, Fox Lake and Lake Villa Fire Depts. helped Antioch put the fire out.

The cause of the fire is still under investigation by the Antioch Fire Dept., the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., and arson specialist Rocky Pelletiere of the Lake County Bldg. and Zoning Dept.

Long pulls Fields, Popp into endorsement mess

Antioch Atty. Robert Long, who has already filed a lawsuit in the name of the Village of Antioch against Mayor Ray Toft, has filed two complaints to the State Board of Elections against Lake County Board President Jim Fields and County Board member Fred

Both complaints have to do with the lawsuit filed against Toft, charging the misuse of the village mailing stamp to send out 7,000 endorsements of both Popp and Fields in the primary elec-

Long's complaint against the two County Board members charges that the mailing cost of the endorsement amounted to $556 without the cost of the stationary or printing.

Long claims that this constitutes campaign contributions over $500 report before the primary election.

two days from the date of the letter to file the contribution by the deadline of March 14 and they did not.

- Long, who is a Democratic nominee for the Lake County States Attorney's office in the November election, states that his motive for filing the complaints against Fields and Popp is that "I feel that the campaign disclosure laws are among the most important laws in this or any other state.'

He adds, "When public officials and persons seeking office do not report as they are required to do, the public isdeprived of the knowledge of their contributors, and are unable to assess what, if any, significance to attach to the contributors and the nature and the extent of any possible influence they may have over the candidate."

He adds, "I believe that it is an unfortunate thing indeed that his complaint must be made, but until such time as the machine politics mentality and cronyism that has existed in this county for far too long is finally and which both Fields and Popp failed to completely eradicated, I fear that our candidates and elected officials will not Long adds that both candidates had take these and other governmental laws seriously enough."

He also says that he is running for office for reasons similar to the complaints and lawsuit he has filed.

The animal haven, 2200 Riverwoods Rd., Deerfield, has been a Lake County landmark for more than half a century. Adoption activity is brisk since May is Adopt-A-Dog Month. There usually are 200 dogs available for adoption at $50 for pedigreed and $35 for mixed breed. Edwards aims at Circuit Court job

by IRIS MAYFIELD

Julia Edwards has her sights set for Circuit Court Clerk, Her gun is loaded with her trusteeship in Round Lake Heights, and as the Heights finance chairman, as well as with her being Democratic committeewoman and Avon Twp. chairman for the Democratic party: She's kept her powder dry with her legal Secretary background.

Edwards said, "I'm running for Circuit Court Clerk because I think I can do a better job than Sally Coffelt. I would be more professional for one thing.'

Edwards said she would make several specific changes. She said that now there is only one bi-lingual person working in the Circuit Court, and she's in the traffic court. Edwards said, "I think there should be at least one more at the information desk, and maybe one in family support services. But, I need to look into that to see if there is a need there." She added, "Bi-linguals would be doing other things and not just translating.'

Edwards said she would increase computerization. She said,"I would have all records on computers so the attorneys could just call up all information. It would also include a check and balance system on fines or anything else. I would stress a monthly report system on bond or judgements that have been satisfied, and traffic fines.

Julia Edwards, Circuit Court clerk candidate

Edwards said, "I would try to promote more of a service atmosphere. When the public goes into the Circuit Court Clerk's office, they feel intimidated.''

Edwards was elected Round Lake Heights trustee in 1987, and appointed the Heights finance chairman shortly after the 1987 election. In 1985 she became Precinct 16 Democratic committeewoman, and just a few months ago was appointed to fill the Beach's Ron Prindle's vacancy as Avon Twp. chairman for the Democratic party.

Edwards has worked 17 years with Kemper Insurance in Long Grove, nine of those years as a legal secretary there. She now works for the Associate General Counsel and Director of Government Relations.

He works with trade associations that deal in Washington for insurance litigation, she said. Edwards helps in monitoring the litigation process. Some of her other duties include channeling complaints, subpoenas, and summonses to the appropriate lawyer. She said she also keeps track of cases, adding that they are dealing with a lot of AIDS legislation.

Edwards also works with para-legals and takes on added responsibilities, as her boss travels a lot. "I've worked in the government relations area for almost eight years, Edwards said. She added that she previously worked for two legislative counsels. They monitored legislation also.

Edwards revealed some of her campaign strategy, saying that it includes meeting with all groups of people. She said she became aware of ? Hispanic problems in the Circuit Court when meeting with Anna Garza who is in charge of "La Puerta Abierta" The Open Door, in Mundelein Earlier this month, Edwards addressed an hispanic group at Santa Maria Del Popolo Church in Mundelein.

Edwards future plans include a bipartisan educational program to explain functions of her office and, an opportunity for the public to meet

March campaign

Julia Edwards started her campaign marching in the St. Patrick's Day parade in Waukegan, and hopes to continue marching right into the Circuit Court clerk's office after the upcoming Nov. election.

She plans on attending the Special Olympics this summer to talk to parents there, as well as, "I will try and get out and meet as many senior citizens as I can," she said.

She also plans on attending as many Twp. meetings as she can to get to know the Twp. Supervisors and staff, as well as village meetings, she said

Edwards expects to attend the July 17 Democratic picnic with her campaign chairman Frances Negrete. Negrete is also chairperson for the picnic. Edwards said, "I'm sure all the Democrats are going to be there. Republicans and independents are welcome," she added.

Edwards has been active in the Big Brothers-Big Sisters program. In 1986 candidates for the upcoming Nov. she was Big Sister of the year for Lake

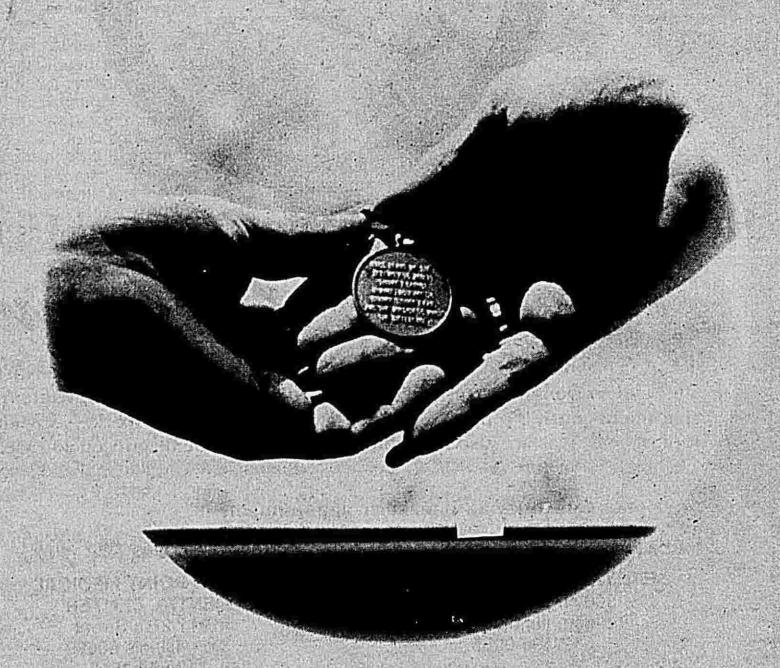

County

Earlier this month, she participated in the 1988 Big Brothers-Big Sisters Bowl for Kids Sake in Deerfield. Edwards and her "little sister" Jennifer Haljean bowled with other Lake County Democrats; Clerk Linda Hess, 10th Congressional Dist. candidate Eugene Friedman, and State's Attorney candidate Robert Long.

Edwards has lived in the same house in Round Lake Heights for 30 years, and boasts that in July she will be 44. "And I feel great about it," she said.

About squaring off against her Republican opponent, Sally Coffelt, for Lake County Circuit Court Clerk, she said, "I think we can do it. It's going to be a struggle and a lot of hard work, but I really feel I can do it.

Impaired feet are among the leading causes of loss of mobility among the aged. But there are ways to help keep older feet healthy.

Walking is the best exercise for the feet. That is why lots of older people are taking to enclosed shopping malls, where the weather is always right for a good walk.

Better yet, many who formerly would face loss of mobility now benefit from podiatric services designed to keep the elderly on their feet. Amputations and other major surgery have declined in recent years thanks to early diagnosis and podiatric

Judge McKoski is that person. He is on the Board of Directors of the Lake County Heart Assn. and Lakes Region Historical Society. He is a volunteer with the Illinois Enviromental Protection Agency.

He is a past member of the Lake County Republican Federation and Lake Villa Twp. Republican Club.

At Monday night's board meeting, the sewer plant operator Mike Ruxton told the board that he would be asking for an extension of the July 1 deadline because the work on the plant is 30 days behind schedule.

But as far as the good news was concerned, Ruxton reported that the village's willingness to spend such a llarge amount of money to bring the plant up to standards was applauded by a regional IEPA inspector.

With the county just hiking its sewer rates, Ruxton reported that the village "will be saving money in the long run."

Al Little, developer of the Pinehill Lakes subdivision near Little Silver Lake, asked the board for a hearing on another 75-single-family home development he would like to put in just south of North Ave., east of Longview

The hearing was set for 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, May 18.

In other business, the board was urged to see that businesses in the village are pressured into keeping their properties clean, especially on the nice summer weekends when the village is more crowded with summer visitors.

DOCTOR'S FORUM ABNORMAL PAP SMEARS by Dr. Mark Bowman

Cervical cancer is related to a number of identifiable risk factors, including early sexual activity, multiple pregnancies, multiple sexual partners, early age of first pregnancy or marriage, promiscuity, and exposure to "high risk" male sexual partners.

Because young women develop this condition, current medical trends emphasize conservative methods of diagnosis and treatment.

Many times a Pap smear shows evidence of infection and an accurate diagnosis for the presence of precancerous lesions cannot be done. When this happens, the Pap smear should be repeated after the infection has been treated.

If the Pap amear does show evidence of precancerous lesions, such as Dysplasis (cervical intra-epithelial neoplasis I, II, or III) the appropriate procedure for diagnosis is required.

First, a colposcopy, which is a painless examination of the cervix and vagina using a low-power microscope, is performed. This exam takes 10 to 30 minutes and is usually done between the mensirual periods. The patient is positioned on the examining table for a pelvic exam. Then a speculum is inserted through the vaginal opening. The area is cleaned with a special solution and the cervix and vagina are clearly examined. the cervix and vagina are clearly examined.

If an area of abnormal tissue is identified, a piece of it is clipped from the cervix. This piece, called a biopsy, is sent to a pathology laboratory for further examination and identification.

Conization, removal of a large piece of tissue in the shape of a cone from the uterus, is also done to identify the abnormal area.

Once the abnormal tissue is identified, conization can be used for treatment. Cryosurgery, which involves freezing the area, as well as laser treatment, which vaporizes the abnormal area, can also be used. Laser treatment, however, is new and not widely advisable.

Treatment always varies from person to person and is tailored to the needs of the particular patient.

For more information about Pap tests and cervical cancer, please call or make an appointment with the Heritage Medical Center, (312)395-0085.

Be sensible about future

A majority of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. commissioners are dead certain that they have the power, authority, and perhaps most important, a mandate of the voters to halt mass development of large tracts of open land in Lake County. That's why the controversy over the district's vote to purchase Picket Fence Farm near Grayslake is looming as a turning point in the open space battle.

Groundwork for the vote to acquire Picket Fence Farm was accomplished in secrecy to prevent Grayslake from annexing the 1,300-acre tract for a planned unit development providing for residential, commercial and industrial uses, and perhaps this is an oddity-approximately 300 acres of open Grayslake officials, working in consort with various taxing bodies, are incensed that the Forest Preserve Dist. stands as a block to expansion needed. they point out, to generate revenues to provide for education and other municipal services. "Horsefeathers," has been the reply of townspeople determined to maintain a small community atmosphere, as they brandish studies showing that developmental costs are borne by taxpayers, not developers. There are ample statistics to prove that developing land to expand the tax base is a myth.

What do folks here and elsewhere who can be classified as "open spacers' want? "Let's be realistic," an outspoken homemaker and mother called to tell us the other day. "We know there's no 'Land Fairy'. We know we're going to pay either way. We're getting tired of letting developers tell us what they want and what they're going to do. We think it's time that we decide what we want.

What many people want, apparently, is maintenance of the lifestyle provided. by a small or smaller community surrounded by rolling fields—open space. We think County Board members have heard this message, and that they're acting accordingly. The Picket Fence Farm purchase is only the first of a series of acquisitions of mass blocks of open space in Lake County. There will be more to come, enough probably to effectively put a damper on massive developments.

Commissioners are moving to acquire open space under bonding authority granted by voters in 1958 when the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. was created. Enabling legislation provides for levies up to two percent of the assessed valuation to purchase land. With the current Lake County assessed valuation in the neighborhood of $5 and one-half billion, that provides for a tidy $110,000,000 for open space acquisition.

What has happened with Picket Fence Farm is that county officials no longer are going to stand by, like they have for 25 years, while land speculators and developers—working with or forcing village officials to give them authority through annexation agreements and zoning ordinances-turn open space into strip malls, office parks and housing developments.

Is this going to turn Lake County into a pastoral society fit only for millionaires living on sprawling estates, or common folk living in simple cottages working their fingers to the bone to pay for open space? We don't think so.

There already is enough talk about "not wanting to become another "let's not be like Schaumburg." DuPage County." or "don't let what happened to Naperville happen to us," to know that more and more householders are serious about taking a stand against unbridled growth and development that's been experienced elsewhere and has already crept across the Lake-Cook county line into Vernon Twp. and Lake Zurich.

We're betting that the Picket Fence Farm purchase will hold up and become a landmark against massive development. Picket Fence Farm will serve notice both on developers and village officials that county politicians and the people mean business. The officer, reported that gates will be development process as a whole in this locality will be slowed up, and that's a good thing.

Is this newspaper espousing a nogrowth stance? No, we haven't jumped on Mike Graham's bandwagon. Neither are we going, hell-bent, to put up a building on every speck of buildable ground or blacktop over the countryside!

It's high time that growth and development be trimmed back to Guaranteed," reported Bill Schroeder digestible parcels. No more massive high density developments that will result in financial chaos for the schools, overwhelmed public services and gridlock on the highways.

Let's be sensible about the future.

Calls for moritorium Editor:

I spoke to the Grayslake Village Board the evening they were discussing the annexation and subsequent development of the Heartland North Mills area. I spoke as a concerned parent of Woodland School to oppose the

I tried to explain the impact of the estimated 719 elementary children who would attend Woodland from the 1,160 units proposed for this piece of land. I stated many facts on:

density of this proposed development.

-The size of the school now. The elementary school now has over 1,000 students with only one principal and two secretaries. They are now guessing there may be as many as 12 classes of kindergarten each day next fall.

—The school buildings are not in good shape. None of our schools have a lunchroom. Many of the ceilings leak because the roof has been patched many times but never repaired.

-There are over 30 other developments going on in Woodland's district. If all of these develop to their planned capacity, Woodland would have over 4,000 students in a short time. There is land set aside for a school on the east side of the district, but that would not help the situation at North Mills (on the west side of our district).

-Residential property taxes cannot build enough schools or adequately supply educational programs as fast as they will be required if our area continues to grow at this pace. The parents of Warren Twp. have just finished building a new high school. Can they now repair, enlarge or build new elementary schools?

My focus that night was on the school, but there are other problems. Traffic, police and fire coverage, library, park district and last, but never least, ecological damage could cause more problems in a very short time with aggressive, rapid development.

I hoped I opened the village board's eyes. I suggested slower development or a moritorium on building in this area. A moritorium would give time to enlarge streets, community services and schools to meet the influx in a more organized manner.

New revenue sources

Editor:

After all that was said regarding Wauconda Unit School District before the recent referendum vote, I would like to make a few comments about the district after the vote.

It would have been very easy for the school board, now that the referendum has passed, to step back and not attempt other methods to increase the school district's revenue. To their credit, however, it has been clear in recent weeks that the board intends to agressively pursue revenue options

From the June/July issue of Mother Earth News, the following is worth noting. This seems to cover many "gray areas" that Lake County is experiencing.

"Make your voice heard in local politics. There is no good reason why developers should flatten the landscape, bury it under condos and concrete, and then walk away with a fistfull of dollars-leaving you and your neighbors to foot the bill for all the needed services.

"Get involved with a state conservation organization, particularly one trying to bring priceless watersheds under public control."

Your newspaper has taken the "middle ground", so that is why this is being sent to you-in hopes of showing that Lake County is not alone in trying to preserve its lifestyle.

Stop illegal hunting

Editor:

I live out in the open farm area of Wauconda, and on May 3, one of my dogs was shot and killed.

She was a good distance away from our home, but it's basically all open and I expect she had chased a rabbit over there. The shots were heard at about 8 p.m. coming from a large area of private property with houses backing up to it where NO HUNTING IS ALLOWED. After searching that night and early the next morning by car, my son and I walked back into the fields at about 6:30 a.m. expecting to find her caught up in wire or a trap (a couple years ago one of our dogs dragged home an illegal trap).

When my son spotted her the anguish we both felt was indescribable. At first we couldn't figure out how she died. There were so many unanswered question and for the safety of our other pets, we took her in for an autopsy. When the veterinarian told me she had been shot, all the hurt I was feeling turned to outrage that some person, if you can call them that, could shoot her.

From where the shots were heard to where we found her Wednesday morning is at least 1,000 yards away. Her death was not even quick or painless. She suffered. From the autopsy we found out she bleed to death.

At this point it is felt that the person was illegally hunting. It is not hunting season and he did not have permission to be there.

The only way to crack down on illegal hunting and trapping is to get involved. The State Conservation Dept. is always interested in information that might help them catch people infringing on the law.

God brought Sandy to us September 1986. She was approximately 2 1/2 years old, very devoted to me and an overall great dog, not a mean bone in her body, on the contrary, she was very submissive. She had a good life with us and she was very much loved by all who knew her. She didn't deserve to die such a violent death, so young and all alone. There is a big void in our family now that will not be mended. It will take a long time for us to keep ourselves from calling her name along with our other dogs. It's just not the same around here.

Please help stop illegal hunting. It's bad enough the animals have to adapt to increased community development. Having them subjected to indiscriminate willfully harmful illegal hunting is too unconscionable for human society to tolerate. Remember this number:

Wauconda Mike not on time Editor:

F.T. "Mike" Graham's poetic announcement in last Friday's newspaper brought to me a flood of information from citizens of Libertyville Township who are angered by Graham's tax delinquency.

Paying his real estate taxes the day before most of us received our property tax bill, he would like us to believe is commendable but this is not the case for the perpetual and chronic property tax deadbeat of Libertyville Township.

Last year was not the first time F.T. "Mike" Graham has appeared on Lake County's and Libertyville Township's list of tax delinquent. I cannot understand how any public official could disregard this responsibility.

Demonstrating his disregard for the public trust, Graham was delinquent in paying his real estate taxes at least every year (except this year) since 1984. That, by the way, is as far back as the data is kept on the county tax collector's computer.

Record: 1984: First installment four months late, second installment one month late, penalties $71.97. 1985: First installment four months late, second installment on month late, penalty $82.99. 1986: First installment five months late, second installment two months late, penalty $90.18.

by Joseph Soulak

Grayslake is expected to come out fighting this week in attempts to block acquisition of the 1,340-acre Picket Fence Farm by the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. Legal action has been filed by the county to block owner Harold Anderson's petition for annexation to the village. This has upset both Grayslake school and village officials. They say removing such valuable land from the tax rolls will limit the growing village's ability to build classrooms and supply municipal services like sewer, water, fire and police protection to the surrounding area.

Mayor Edwin Schroeder is fit to be tied about being hemmed in by nontaxable open space—the College of Lake County and Lake County Fairgrounds on the east, Brae Loch Country Club on the south, Renwood Country Club on the west and, now, the potential of Picket Fence Farm on the north. The man who has been mayor of Grayslake for 11 years is working overtime on this problem.

A lawyer since 1950, he is the retired senior attorney and corporate secretary for the Zenith Corp., where he worked for 35 years. Although he no longer practices law, Schroeder still knows the subject and, occasionally, helps out the village's attorney. In the case of Picket Fence Farm, the mayor is almost certain to have a big voice in what is shaping up as a David vs. Goliath confrontation over open space.

Everybody who is anybody in Lake County Republican circles will see and be seen at the Friday, May 20, County GOP Federation dinner at the Holiday Inn in Mundelein. Headline luminary is Congresswoman Lynn Martin (R-Loves Park), who has had a prominent role in George Bush's presidential campaign both in Illinois and the midwest, and who has a high-powered post in the House Armed Services Committee. She is a former school teacher who made good by way of election to the Winnebago County Board, state representative and state senator before going to Washington.

She won't be the only politician around Friday. Also on hand will be two other congressmen, John Porter and Phillip Crane; state senators Adeline Geo-Karis and David Barkhausen; state representatives Robert W. Churchill, Virginia Frederic and William E. Peterson, plus the Lake County Republican office holders and candidates for election in the fall.

But the big draw will be Edward Vrdolyak, Republican candidate for Cook County clerk. "Fast Eddie", as he was known in the "good old days" (and still is called in some quarters), wants as much exposure as possible. Watch the 10 p.m. news to see who is the media darling of this event.

Schmidt

Grinnell.

Sheriff Clinton "Clint" Grinnell, 56. has some heritage of which he is pretty proud. First of all, he is a native Lake Countian through and through. He was born in Libertyville Twp., where his father was a veterinarian. He lives on a farm in Fremont Twp., where he has a team of Belgium draft horses he drives around his 15 acres or on the road out front.

He also has some political roots. His cousin, Guy, was a stalwart and powerful member of the Lake County Board of Supervisors for many years. Grinnell hopes to follow in those political shoes by being elected sheriff in the November election to confirm the trust placed in him by way of his appointment following the death of former Sheriff Robert Babcox. Then, Clint will have the best of both worlds-his law enforcement career in the daytime and his farm at night and on weekends.

In case you forgot to celebrate, May 5 was Tax Freedom Day. As of that day, you and your neighbors began working for yourselves. Until then, for the first, 126 days of this year, you were working to satisfy federal, state and local tax collections. This year's celebration is one day later than last year due to leap year.

What are you celebrating? How about the idea you no longer have to work one hour and 50 minutes each day to pay federal taxes-up four minutes from last year. Or how about not working 55 minutes of an eight-hour day to pay state and local taxes?

If you haven't heard the name Suzie Schmidt, you're bound to one of these days. Those living in Lake Villa Twp. know her as their nominee for the Dist. 4 member of the Lake County Board of Supervisors. In winning the nomination, she defeated such luminaries as Jim Fields of Antioch and Fred Popp of Lake Villa.

She won a vote of confidence bybeing involved. She also has a winning personality and an unusual nickname-the Swamp Queen. It came about because of a painting. Her friend and neighbor, Sondra Fratkin, did a life-size painting of Schmidt last summer reclining on an air mattress. It wasn't any old air mattress, but one floating on Cedar Lake amid lily pads. The painting has Schmidt clad in a black and white zebra-striped bikini. It was purchased by a couple in Boca Raton, Fla., for $1,300 and was appropriately named "The Swamp Queen".

The name game is still being played to the hilt. Dist. 2 County Board Rep. Audrey Nixon of North Chicago wants the new "Sheriff's Dept. shooting range, being constructed on 80 acres near Russell, to be named after deputies killed in the line of duty in recent years. Trouble is, how do you honor those after the cutoff?

Before the range is dedicated, it is almost certain someone else will suggest an "appropriate" name.

Best tomatoes to grow in containers taste of a just-picked tomato. The containers holding two gallons or more tomato's tangy flavor make it of soil. America's garden favorite. In fact, more people grow more tomatoes in their gardens than anything else.

But if short on spare time or garden space, you can still enjoy home-grown tomatoes this summer. Any tomato that grows in the garden will thrive in a container. All that is needed is a sunny spot—a deck, patio, rooftop, even a windowsill facing south.

Anyone can grow tomatoes in a clay pot, a bushel basket lined with plastic, or a metal can with holes punched in the bottom. Container-grown tomatoes offer ease of maintenance, portability and decorative appeal.

Tomato plants will produce good crops in remarkably little space. Growers compensate for the cramping by providing generous water and fertilizer.

Small-fruited tomatoes, called "patio" or "pixie" types, will do nicely in six-inch pots. Try Tiny Tim, foot-high plants bearing loads of bright red 3/4inch fruits.

Hanging types, like Basket King Hybrid, have cascading vines that make them attractive as well as bountiful when grown in hanging baskets.

One of the best-producing, besttasting tomatoes for slicing is Better Boy VFN, similar to the famous Big Boy, but much more resistant to disease. Better Boy and other large-

One of life's finer pleasures is the fruited varieties call for substantial

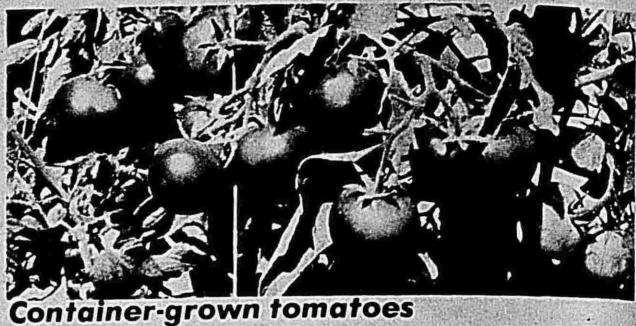

There are new planters on the market this spring that offer both large capacity and self-watering ability. There is even a trellising system available for tall plants.

Whichever container you choose, the most crucial factor in the success of container tomatoes is the soil. Ordinary garden soil is useless in pots. It compacts and suffocates roots. Many commercial potting mixes are too light to support large plants, and dry out too quickly. Tomatoes demand a soil mix that drains well, yet retains sufficient moisture for steady growth.

Make sure tomato plants get six to eight hours of sunshine daily and plenty of water. Water whenever the soil surface feels dry to the touch. In convenient pots and planters, this may be once or twice a day in hot weather. Fertilize with a complete plant food.

Free Dental Check

The Lake County Health Dept. offers dental screening by a licensed dental hygienist for adults and children at no charge to Lake County residents and at the Mid-Lakes Medical Bldg., 6 E. Main St., Round Lake Park. Dental screening and oral health instructions will be offered there on Wednesday, May 11 from 1 to 3 p.m. No appointment is necessary.

Bumper crops of tomatoes can be grown in small spaces such as this patio pot holding the hanging vines of a hybrid plant. This is something anyone can do on their patio, the back steps or a small window.

Businesses see sharing as its key

Two aspiring entreprenuers have made their own businesses a reality by sharing office space, support equipment, and staff.

Susan O. Wells operates S.W. Enterprises and Jeffrey Pilcher runs Production Systems, both located at 391 Lake St. in Antioch. Wells' company specializes in matching computer software with client's hardware, and showing people how to use it. Pilcher's computer expertise is in manufacturing, engineering, and consulting using sophisticated Auto CAD system.

An open house to introduce their respective companies is scheduled for Friday. May 20. They invited business people and the public in general to attend and assure that refreshments are to be served from 3 p.m. on.

The companies are separate and run independently, yet since the two businesses compliment each other. Wells and Pilcher have combined their talents and worked together on assignments.

"Its a good combination. We think sharing the office makes the difference between the businesses that make it and those that don't." Wells said.

According to Pilcher. "The Lake County area, industry-wise, is starting to take off." He believes they are located in the right place at the right time, and neither is too far from home and family.

Each of the businesses offers an important service to the community. "I find software that fits the client's needs, train their people to use it, and support the systems," Wells explained.

Schaffer gets top honor as NIU success alumni

Two alumni of Northern Illinois University. a "homegrown" talent who has served his profession far beyond the walls of NIU, and an Illinois state senator, will receive awards from the NIU Alumni Assn.

NIU business professor E. Edward Harris will receive the Distinguished Alumni Award for outstanding professional achievement, and Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry County), of the 32nd Dist., has been named recipient of the F.R. Geigle Award for outstanding service to Northern.

The awards will be presented at NIU's Graduate School commencement ceremony on Saturday, May 14.

Harris, who received a doctorate in education from Northern in 1965 and stayed on to teach in business education and administrative services, specializes in promoting free enterprise. Harris has brought thousands of dollars of research grants to NIU and is a prolific author in his field.

While studying for a degree in management at NIU, Schaffer was involved with campus political groups. After a tour of duty with the Army, Schaffer served a term as county auditor in McHenry County.

He was elected to the Illinois Senate in 1972 and is now minority whip. Each election he is returned to the senate by large majorities of his constituents in the 32nd Dist.

Schaffer is considered an authority on welfare and public aid and a legislative leader in mental health and solid waste disposal.

His efforts have been recognized by the Illinois Assn. of Retarded Citizens, the Chicago Mental Health Assn., the Illinois Assn. of Rehabilitation Facilities and the Environmental Council. He has also served as an advisor to NIU presidents.

The Geigle Award is named for Francis R. ("Bud") Geigle, for many years a top academic officer at NIU and former acting president of Illinois State University.

Geigle died in 1974, only ten weeks after retiring from his position as Northern's vice president for development and alumni relations.

Monaville Rd. mess

Monaville Rd. in Lake Villa Twp. looks a mess, but that will end by Saturday, June 11, when the well-traveled thoroughfare will reopen to traffic. First phase of the $839,000 project was being completed last week. Paving by Skokie Valley Asphalt was to start this

Waukegan, YMCA planning 'Scoop the Loop' festival fun

Scoop the Loop Reunion is less than one month away - June 10 and 11. Sponsors of the event, the City of Waukegan and the Lake County YMCA, are anticipating a crowd of 10,000.

Registration for all cars will open June 1 and the cost is $5 per night per car. A preregistred two night pass for $10 includes a Scoop the Loop plaque. This registration fee is a tax deductible donation to the YMCA and helps cover the cost of the event.

This year's schedule includes open scooping on Friday and Saturday nights from 6 to 10 p.m. and DJ music provided by the Dancing Machine. The North Shore Reds will host a hot rod car show at 3 p.m. June 11

The Third Annual and the Pro East Parents Club is hosting 'Hangout 88', a dance for all ages at the JM following the June 10 scopping.

> Scoop the Loop paraphernalia will be available from June 1 in the downtown Waukegan area. T-shirts and cardboard car visors are being sold by the Waukegan Downtown Assn. in cooperation with the YMCA. T-shirts are $8 before the event and $10 at the event and the car visors are $5.

The annual Scoot the Loop Reunion held in downtown Waukegan originated three years ago at a YMCA citizens committee meeting. The old YMCA in downtown Waukegan was famous in Waukegan High School students, and many who remember the 'good old days' wanted to bring back a back a bit of nostalgia. "Now with the event growing bigger and better, we need to cover our costs. Our biggest expense is the portable toilets and we are asking Waukegan businesses and Waukegan High School Class Region Committees to sponsor these necessary facilities for a donation of $100. In return for sponsorship, each organization or business will receive a personalized 'Scoop the Loop Street Sign' which will be displayed at the portable toilet the day of the event and a collector's item keepsake in years to come," Phillip Baaske, executive director of the YMCA said.

All those interested in the 1950s and 1960s for sponsorship and car registrations should call the YMCA at (312) 360-

Fire Dist. bill for hazards

Legislation sponsored by Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry County), of the 32nd Dist., to help local fire protection districts respond to emergencies involving hazardous material was approved by a Senate committee this week.

Senate Bill 1903 would give legal authority to fire departments wanting to purchase equipment and training for use in emergencies involving hazardous material.

"Almost every month an accident or hazardous waste spill happens on a highway somewhere in the state. The fire protection districts, which are usually the first ones on the scene, are currently not legally able to get the equipment or training they need to handle these emergency situations," Schaffer said. "This bill simply allows fire departments, on a voluntary basis, to design and choose the equipment and training best suited for them to handle these situations."

"Right now, if a truckload of acid spills on a highway in my district, the fire protection district would be the first one called to the accident site. I want to make sure those people expected to respond to this kind of situation are allowed to pursue what they need in order to best handle lifethreatening dangerous accidents involving hazardous material." said Schaffer.

The measure now goes before the full Senate for consideration.

Geo-Karis learns on trip

Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion) of the 31st District has returned to her legislative duties in Springfield following a White House briefing in Washington last week.

One of only two Illinois state senators attending the session, she said she came back feeling prouder than ever of the United States and its accomplishments. "A nation that has achieved an unemployment rate of 5.4 percent, brought the prime rate down to 8.75 percent form a high of 21.5 percent and increased the buying power of citizens by slashing the inflation rate from 20 percent to 3.3 percent in just a few years has something to crow about," she said.

"Secretary of Labor Ann McLaughlin told us that more than 14.5 million new jobs have been created since late 1982,"

Sen. Geo-Karis continued. "What is particularly interesting is the fact that more than 60 percent of those jobs are in the higher-paying categories, management and professional, technical professional, financial and business services, supervisors and proprietors, precision production, craft and repair."

Geo-Karis, who paid her own expenses for the trip to Washington, said what she learned will be of great help to her as a member of the state Senate leadership. "Jobs and more jobs are what we need most in Illinois, " she observed. "Hearing that the percentage of working-age Americans who are employed has never been higher gives us hope that the employment picture in Illinois will also be improving."

School board attacks deficit stranglehold

District 116, in an attempt to pursue some answers to the school budget deficit, is attacking the situation on several fronts.

Tuesday evening the school board prompted the support of two bills before the state legislature, HB 3250, which provides some help to schools in the area of average daily attendance, and also HB 3253, which pertains to tax for special education.

Support is also asked for HSR 160 which proposes a moratorium on legislation until money for mandated state programs is received.

Board member Dave De Bolt reported on the state's consideration of an increase in the income tax rate to fund school and social service programs.

De Bolt said the first big hurdle for Governor Thompson is to determine how much revenue is needed and how this is to be translated into an income tax raise for the future. De Bolt said, "This is a critical situation." De Bolt further said that once it is turned into a bill and the bill is in place, there will be three serious considerations. One, overhauling the state aid formula. Two, Tying tax increase to real estate tax, "which is the thorniest one," De Bolt said, and three, a drastic change in the chicago city school system. He added that "This community, whatever way, will pay for the school district.'

Hainesville fire closes Rte. 120 for three hours

by IRIS MAYFIELD

A fire, that leveled a barn, damaged two adjacent buildings and several parked cars, near the intersection of Hainesville Rd. and Rte 120, started around 1 p.m. Wednesday, and was fought for several hours by Round Lake, Grayslake, Fox Lake, Wauconda, Antioch, Mundelein, and Lake Villa fire departments.

Sgt. James Christophersen, of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., said that the call was received by Round Lake at 12:57 p.m. from the barn's owner Joanne Johnson, Rt. 1, Box 10C, Grayslake.

Christophersen said the fire was started by Johnson's brother Jim Franz, 48, from Chicago, who was burning a field just east of the barn to clear it. Flames blew up on the roof of the barn, starting the fire.

The sergeant said there were no injuries, but that some firemen were given oxygen while fighting the fire. Also, he said, the adjoining apartment building, which was also damaged, was unoccupied at the time of the fire. He said several smaller buildings were also damaged.

For two and one half hours Rte. 120 was closed and traffic was diverted onto Washington St.

Lakes Region Watercolor Guild to host shows

At the April meeting of the Lakes Region Watercolor Guild, held in the Grayslake Community Room, business included the election of new officers, the appointment of Lilo Torau as newsletter editor, postponement of the Irving Shapiro Workshop, and discussion of the Guild Scholarship to Dillman's Lodge in Wisconsin.

Members are currently involved in many group and individual gallery showings and workshops. Among these, Carol Sakschewsky, Jeanette White, Janice Metzger, and Sandra Brown are represented at Millburn Gallery. Sandra will be exhibiting at the Libertyville National Bank in September. Pat Wylie, who exhibited at the Unitarian Church Art Fair on April 30, will be joined by Mary Lacey this summer for a three month showing at the Deerfield State Bank.

Bradley Sauder will have a one-man exhibit at the Wauconda Library from June 1 through the 23rd, in addition to participating at the Barrington Area Arts Council Fair, June 25. Mike Grosses paintings are currently being shown at the First National Bank of Antioch.

Several members plan to exhibit this summer at the Lake Geneva Outdoor Fair, among them, Barnard Wanagas of Twin Lakes, Wis. who has successfully established a water-colorist's school at his home.

Edmund Kanwischer, watercolor instructor at the College of Lake County and founder of the Lakes Region Watercolor Guild, has been commissioned to do a sculpture to adorn the entry reception area at the College.

Studio musicians were used for most of the guitar and saxophone work: When it all comes together it sounds great.'

Tanner attributes her varied musical talents to her family upbringing. "I came from a very musical family." Tanner recalls. "I started playing the drums when I was three and the rest of the instruments

"Changes," is the title song from that musical," Tanner said. Jethro sans Homer set for opera house

Music legend Jethro Burns and NPR's "A Prairie Home Companion" star Peter Ostroushko and the Mando Boys will appear in concert at the Woodstock Opera House on Saturday, June 11, at 8 p.m.

Burns has been a professional musician for over 50 years, first gaining national attention as the hilarious mandolin player in the very popular comedy/music duo, "Homer and Jethro".

Homer and Jethro frequently appeared on radio and television, including the Old Barn Dance, the Grand Old Opry and the Beverly Hillbillies. Accompanying Jethro in this concert will be renowned violinist, mandolinist and guitarist Don Stiernberg.

Regarded as one of the great virtuosos on the mandolin, Jethro more recently toured with the late Steve Goodman, including Goodman's concert at the Woodstock Opera House in 1984. Burns also played mandolin on many of Goodman's albums and videos.

Burns currently appears weekly on the syndicated television series "Hee Haw" as the mandolin player on the "Million Dollar Band" with Chet Atkins, Floyd Kramer and Roy Clark.

Peter Ostroushko is also considered one of the world's greatest mandolin and violin players. Ostroushko is best known throughout the United States for his nine years as one of the regular stars and music director of the award-winning radio program, "A Prairie Home Companion" with Garrison Keillor.

During the last years of the Prairie Home broadcasts, Ostroushko formed a band with three other mandolin players, to be called the Mando Boys. The idea behind the band is to recall the memory of the big mandolin orchestras that were immensely popular around the turn of the century.

Ostroushko and the Mando Boys perform various styles of music, but they specialize in emplex arrangements for mandolins and vocals of jazz/swing tunes and even classical music, such as Bach's Fugue in G minor.

Tickets for this show are priced at $8, and are on sale at the Woodstock Opera House box office and all Ticketron locations. For tickets or more information. call (815)338-5300.

colshire Theatre's recently concluded subscription campaign for its 1988 season placed Marriott's in the top five most-subscribed musical theatres in the country," announced Producer Kary M. Walker.

Located at Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort in suburban Chicago, the theatre is also the most-subscribed theatre in Chicago with 22,500 subscribers.

A subscription consists of a block of discounted

tickets to the five musical productions of the yearlong 1988 season, which includes "Evita," "Do black patent leather shoes really reflect up?," "Cabaret," "West Side Story" and "Peter Pan".

"We have experienced continual growth in our subscription market since 1980, when we began our first season of musicals with 1,500 subscribers," says Peter Grigsby, director of marketing for Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre.

"We attribute our results to several factors: ongoing audience surveys to determine who our patrons are and how we can best serve their theatre and dining needs; continued emphasis on quality productions (evidence by 23 Joseph Jefferson Award nominations for excellence in Chicago theatre last year); market research and development; and the use of Tel-Arts Marketing, a Chicagobased firm, in a telephone campaign.

Pride, the current hit album from Atlantic recording group White Lion, has been certified "gold" by the R.I.A.A. for U.S. sales exceeding 500,000 units. The New York Citybased quartet's label debut was produced by Michael Wagner for Double Trouble Productions and released June 22, 1987.

The album is currently bulleting up the national charts Top 20, and its first single, "Wait," is enjoying parallel success. A video of the song is receiving extensive exposure on video outlets nationwide, and ranks among the top five most-requested clips on MTV. White Lion is presently on an extensive North American tour with Aerosmith, and they will most likely join label matesAC/DC on that group's forthcoming concert tour of the U.S.

Rough House expects to release their debut album for Columbia Records this summer. Champion Entertainment represents the Philadelphia-based band (formerly known as Teeze). Max Norman (Ozzy Osbourne/Loudness/Y&T) is producing the self-title LP, which is currently being mixed at the Carriage House in Connecticut. "The record grabs your ear from the first track to the last track and doesn't let you go," asserts guitarist Greg Malack. "Max is super intelligent. He let us be ourselves because he knew that we would be living with this album for a long time."

Prior to signing with Columbia, Rough House had an independent LP distributed through Greenworld, which sold nearly 50,000 copies.

Part of the deal with becoming a creative artist is the need for change, and Neil Young is no exception. Neil and his new band, The Bluenotes, have concocted a new musical genre (Power Swing).

Discover the Bahamas and the people by JIM, WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

You've visited the monuments from the days of pirate rule. You've shopped at the straw markets. You've even caught the island show at the Drum Beat Club. But have you really experienced the Bahamas?

Unless you've had the opportunity to meet and spend time with the Bahamian people, you have not discovered the Bahamas. But how do you meet people of the friendly island nation? You can't really go knocking on doors saying I want to be your friend. The Ministry of Tourism has the answer. It's a program called "People-to-People".

It works like this. Before your trip, have your travel agent contact the Ministry of Tourism in either Nassau or Freeport, depending upon your destination. (Your agent should have forms for this.) You will be asked to supply information about yourself and your family to better match your interests to those of a Bahamian family. You'll be asked things like your age, occupation, club and church affiliations, hobbies and other interests. You will then be matched with a volunteer host family.

This is a completely informal, personal, nonregimented program. The Ministry of Tourism will arrange a meeting, and from then on it's between you and your host family. You may be invited home for a party or Bahamian meal; join in at a family gathering or be given a tour of the city. You might join them at worship or a local club meeting. Your children may compare notes on growing up in the Bahamas versus Lake Villa.

There is no charge for this service. The host family covers all the costs. A small thank you gift may be appropriate.

There is no way to put a price on the memories you take with you when you leave with a part of the real people of the Bahamas.

Rt. 83, N. Of Grand Ave.

Lake Villa, IL (312) 356-3010

The Flying Scotsman Tour, most expensive of the three, is pulled by the famous "Flying Scotsman" locomotive, restored to mind condition in gleaming green, red and blue livery and itself a national celebrity, known to every train spotter in England. Riding behind it, you will feel like a celebrity, too, as people gather at every station and overpass to watch old Number 4472, its stack blowing clouds of steam, its whistle punctuating passage through the countryside. The Flying Scotsman also sports a unique 1920's observation car, a luxurious "saloon with open balcony", which was built for the general manager of the Great Eastern Railway.

The Flying Scotsman, as well as the Highlander and West Highlander Tours, begins and ends with a stay in London. Tours depart from the vaulting, Victorian King's Cross or St. Pancras Station for a ride through the Midland Shires and Yorkshire Ridings to Scotland and the Highlands. Passengers dine on Scottish smoked salmon and roast Aberdeen beef, served impeccably by British waiters. After sharing observations on the day's events with new-found friends, you are lulled to sleep in gently rolling Pullman cars.

The trains take you through heather moors and mountains, melancholy glens, mysterious lochs and rolling green pastures, past ruined castles, picturesque fishing villages and ancient cities and towns. They stop to visit the world's oldest golf courses and for ferry boat rides to the fabled Isle of Skye or the Island of Mull, two of the most scenic of the Hebrides. To break the four-day ride, the Highlander Tour includes an overnight stop at the Palace Hotel in Inverness, while West Highlander passengers overnight at Fort Williams.

The Flying Scotsman Tour is basically a three-day steam-pulled trip added on to the Highlander Tour. It goes north through the Pennine Mountains, with stops at Appleby where buildings date from the 1600s, Stratford-on-Avon, Warwick Castle and Nottingham Castle—from which you can visit 'Ye Old Trip to Jerusalem', reputedly the oldest pub in England. The route takes you through Sherwood Forest and past Bosworth Field, where Richard III lost his crown.

Capricorn Tours offers a number of extra options, including two nights at St. Andrews Golf and Country Club, with a starting time on the famous "Old Course".

What might happen if Sherlock Holmes met Sigmund Freud? What might happen if H.G. Wells met Jack The Ripper?

Those questions were the inspiration for two outstanding films- "The Seven Percent Solution" and "Time After Time", respectively. The man responsible for both, writer/director Nicholas Meyer, knew how to take that fascinating "What if?" premise and tell a unique story with it.

In the new film, "Sunset", director Blake Edwards takes a similarly intrigueing idea- "What if movie cowboy Tom Mix met Wyatt Earp?"- and then simply tells a conventional murder plot story

"Sunset" starts out with two (count 'em, two) great ideas: (1) Mix meeting Earp and (2) Bruce Willis and James Garner, co-starring. But then, the movie doesn't do anything all that interesting or original with either of those ideas.

The story begins with Earp being brought in as technical advisor on a film in which Mix will play Earp. That "overlapping" of fiction and reality is an ejoyable gimmick but its not enough for these guys to just walk around "being" Tom Mix and Wyatt Earp.

What made Meyer's two films work better than "Sunset" is the fact that the "What if?" question was used to tell a story that could not be told with any other characters. But these characters could be any two "good guys" investigating a murder.

Willis and Garner have been called "the slickest screen pair since Redford and Newman" and it certainly seems like they could be with the right script. Here, though, they aren't given anything special and it seems unbalanced. I think Garner overshadows Willis a bit with his presence.

"Sunset" does have some good things going for it, though. Willis and Garner are both likable enough to make it watchable. (After all, there is no actor more incurably likable than Garner.) Also, there are a couple of good supporting performances by two other people I like- Mariel Hemingway and Malcolm Mc-Dowell (who, by the way, played H.G. Wells in "Time After Time":)

"Sunset" does manage to be fairly entertaining. But I still couldn't help but notice all the unfulfilled potential lying around all over the screen while this other stuff was going on. Oh, well, maybe if there's a sequel...

Tom Mix saying Have a nice day'-unreal by GLORIA DAVIS In the last few years there has been a rash of movies realistically depicting the glamorous, notorious and exciting 1920's from "Cotton Club" to the academy ward winning "Untouchables."

/ NO

Now director Blake ("10") Edwards adds to this list with his latest production, "Sunset." Actually this movie can't really be added to the list because the only list it belongs on is one that indexes "oldies but badies."

All Edwards did was take tv's Maverick(James Garner) and David Addison from "Moonlighting" Bruce Willis, put them in old time cowboy duds, hand them a very confusing script and misrepresent the whole menage as the latest '20's adventure film.

The storyline has Garner playing Wyatt Earp and Willis, the silent movie cowboy hero, Tom Mix. The two get together when Earp is brought in to consult on Mix's latest western film and somehow the two end-up rounding up a murderer, get mixed-up with gangsters, a bunch of psychotic Hollywood people and even get involved with a Roy Rogers-Gene Autry type galloping chase with six guns-a blazin'.

This reviewer is still trying to figure who some of the characters in the movie were and what in the hell they were doing there.

Garner's Maverick is an acceptable Earp, after all he has affably lounged his way with tongue in cheeck through three long-lived tv series.

But on the other hand, wisecracking David Addison does not by any stretch of the imagination resemble a 1920's movie cowboy. Here the 1980's "in" remarks Willis springs throughout the film, are as out of place as the concept of Madonna mezza-sopranoing all over the Metropolitan Opera's stage in "Aida"

Somehow I can't picture my old Ralston buddy saying "Have a nice day."

Even the pat stagecoach chase and the barfights fail to give this film a feeling of authenticity.

I kept feeling that they forgot to give Willis a script and told him to wing it, so Mix is a mixture of Addison and Willis with a touch of Bruno.

The timing that is so important in this kind of spoof is way off and what masquerades as excitemnt had this reviewer stiffeling yawns throughout.

Since "Moonlighting" remains on the top of the tv charts despite repeats and inferior shows, there are probably enough Willis fans who will enjoy seeing "David" sans Mattie in anything that isn't a repeat, to make the movie a go.

"Maverick" meets "Moonlighting"

"Sunset", new film directed by Blake Edwards, stars James Garner (left) as Wyatt Earp and Bruce Willis as Tom Mix who team up to investigate a murder in 1920s Hollywood.

IS WALKING GOOD FOR THE SPINE?

ABSOLUTELY! Walking is very good exercise for the spine. The spinal vertebrae have little cushions in between one another called discs. These discs have a limited blood supply and are dependant on a process known as imbibition to obtain nutrients and oxygen and to remove waste products from the cellular structures that make up the disc. Imbibition occurs when the vertebra gently open and close during the walking mechanism.

Bears, Grant get tops in NWSC meet

Lake Zurich's track and field team is hoping momentum gained from a Northwest Suburban Conference championship will transfer into tickets to Charleston for the state meet next

The Bears outdistanced second place Grant by more than 30 points in winning top honors 142-119. Round Lake was third with 87 points, Marengo fourth with 72, Marian Central fifth with 58. Wauconda had 39 and Grayslake 31. Johnsburg was last with 11 points.

Lake Zurich Coach Paul Willis said the race pretty much went according to plan, as he had anticipated the Bears scoring between 135 and 145 points.

"Lake Zurich has a lot of talent this year and they showed they have a lot of depth, too," Grant Coach Sam Spasovich said.

As for the sectional meet May 21 at Zion-Benton, Willis said the Lake Zurich chances rest with the relay teams and senior Jeff Burham in the

"He's gotten a lot bigger and stronger and he is a real self-motiviated kid," Willis said of Burnham. Burham had a winning heave of 142.3 in the conference meet.

Martin Milner, who qualified for the state meet at Eastern Illinois University last year, finished second in the long jump with a 20 feet, nine and three-quarter inch jump. Round Lake's Lophonso Woods had a 21 feet four and three-quarter leap for first place.

Milner won the 400 meter dash with a 51.7., beating teammate Les McGregor and Wauconda's Norm Niemo, who placed third.

Also in field events, Mike Kilan was second in the shot put.

The relay teams all have chances to go to the state meet, Willis said. The 400 meter squad edged Grant 44.9- 45.4. Grayslake was third at 46.

In the 1,600 meter relay, LZ won in 3:37, topping Marengo and Grayslake.

For second-place Grant, Joe Wach broke the conference record in the high jump with a 6-6 and was second in the low hurdles.

The Bulldogs won the 800 meter relay in 1:33.1 and Lake Zurich was second. The record-tying team consisted of Kurt Rous, Jamie Hasenstien, Brian Haggy and Kevin Frystak.

John Mazur earned a second place in the pole vault with a leap of 11 feet.

Round Lake's Woods turned in a strong effort for the Panthers. Woods won the 110 high hurdles in 15.4 and the 300 meter low hurdles in 39.4 in addition to his victory in the long jump.

Brace scores on wild pitch, Grant claims title

At 6 p.m. on Monday, the sun finally won an afternoon-long battle with the skies over Fox Lake.

And as far as Grant's softball team is concerned, the timing could not have been better. Just moments earlier, the Bulldogs had locked up the Northwest Suburban Conference championship with a 3-2 win over Round Lake.

The game was not the best the Bulldogs - 13-0 heading into the final league game - have played all year. A ystal Lake and Vernon Hills Golf steady mist coupled with the pitching of Round Lake's Eve Van Meter had

Mundelein wins another NSC softball championship

When the Mundelein Mustangs softball team puts its collective mind to accomplish something, there seems to be no stopping the certainty.

Mundelein, the team of the 1980's as far as the North Suburban Conference is concerned, wrapped up its third straight title with a sweep of Zion-Benton Saturday.

Susan Musselwhite led the Mustangs to yet another NSC crown while winning both contests, 1-0 and 4-1. If nothing else, Musselwhite impressed the ZeeBees, who struck out 21 times against her offerings.

"We're getting her endurance up," deRivera said of Musselwhite, who won four games all told last week.

The wins kept the longest winning streak rolling at 23 straight, 23-1 overall and 16-0 in NSC games. The ZeeBees were left in a secondplace tie with Warren at 12-4 in the league.

Mundelein did not have the usual offensive punch, but three singles was all it needed in the first game. With two out, Kim Shark singled as did Musselwhite. Denise

A first inning error kept Musselwhite from here second complete game of the year.

In the nightcap, Musselwhite had 12 strikeouts but Zion had two hits.

Musselwhite led the six-hit attack with a twofor-three-game. Lynette Kowalke delivered a key two-RBI single in the first and had another in the sixth.

While Mundelein bats were held relatively in check by. Zion, the Mustangs earlier scored 31 runs in beating Stevenson 15-0 and 16-0.

In the first 15-0 win, Mundelein scored four runs in the first inning and never looked back. After scoring twice in the minds to.

Hartmann then delivered second, the hosts added seven in the third to make sure it would be a five-inning game. Musselwhite struck out four Patriots in picking up the win.

> Two days later, Musselwhite had another no hitter in the 16-0 win over Stevenson.

Struggles was two-forfive with three rbis, Kim Shark was three-for-five and Cindy Shark was two-for-three.

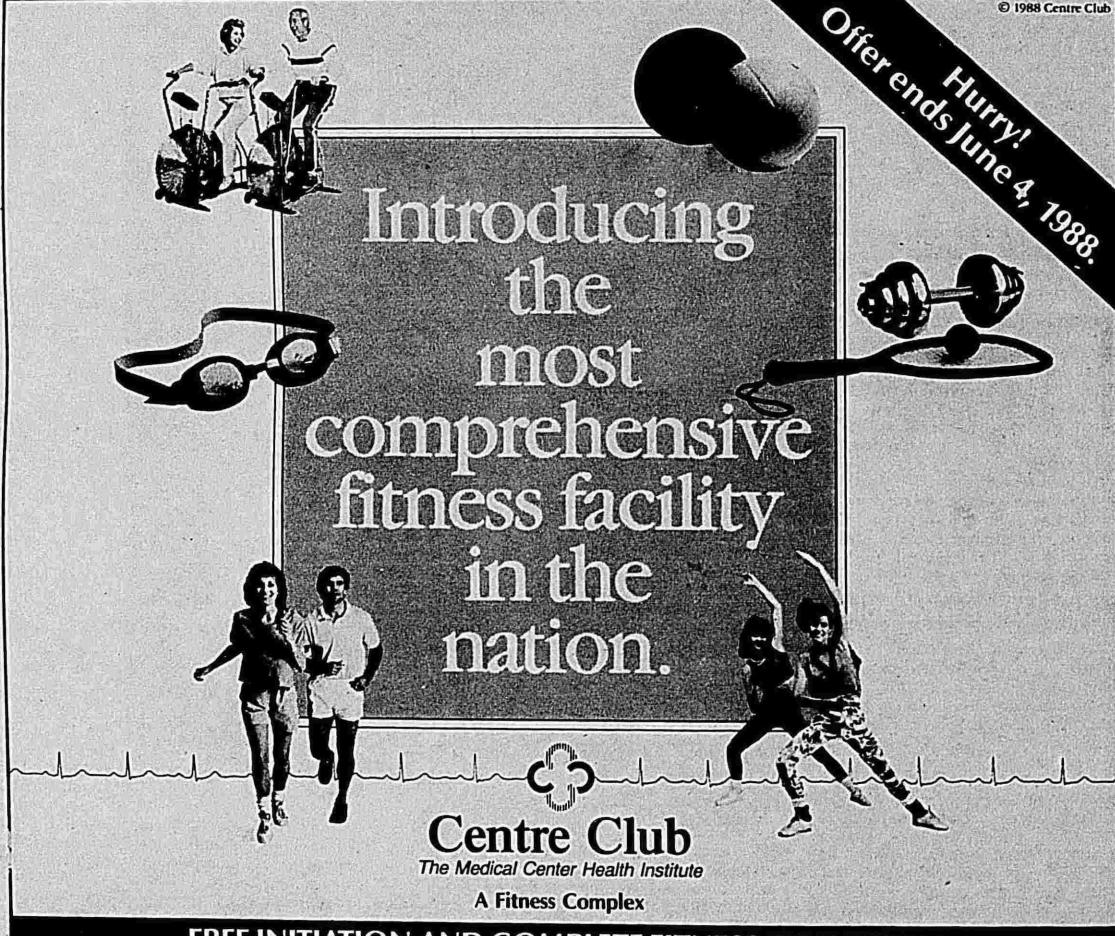

deRivera said the winning streak is secondary as the Mustangs prepare for their own regional.

"Getting better and improving is more important," the coach said.

And in a few weeks, the Mustangs could have a new goal to set their some help from the Fenton pitcher, who walked seven," Antioch Coach Rich Brown said.

Jason Bellucci was the winning pitcher, getting out of enough jams to register seven strikeouts and six walks.

"We had some timely hitting which had been a problem in the past," Brown said.

Antioch was able to enjoy a lead early in the game, as the Sequoits built up a 5-0 lead. Matt Kruzcek delivered a key blow, a two-run single in the opening inning. Ed Meltzer had a two-run hit in the second inning.

Antioch pitcher Dan Grotte fell into some hard luck in the first game. He struck out seven and walked only one but Antioch could get just four hits to Fenton's 11. Brown said Grotte had a decent game but the defense let him down.

Earlier, Antioch had split two games with North Chicago.

The Warhawks edged the Sequoits 8-7 to the NSC.

Bellucchi had eight strikeouts and four walks and had a 6-2 lead at one point. Offensively, he contributed a two-run triple in the first inning.

"We relaxed a little after the 6-2 lead and North Chicago is a good hitting club," Brown the sixth and then retired said.

Two days later, the Sequoits also found themselves up against a Warhawk team making a comeback.

Antioch led 11-6 at one point, but a sixth inning register their first win in rally brought North Chicago to within one. But the Sequoit bats then answered for a three-spot and a 14-10 win.

> Mike Bablo was the starting and winning pitcher, striking out eight and walking just two. David Wick halted the North Chicago rally in the Warhawks in order in the seventh.

> Elsewhere in the NSC's final weekend of regular season play, Mundelein snapped a three-game losing streak with a 15-8 win in the second game of a doubleheader. Zion-Benton's Bruce Wimer had a no-hitter in the first game as the Zee-Bees won 3-0.

But Mundelein broke out of its three-game hitting slump with reckless abandon in game two.

Mundelein trailed 7-3 before scoring five times in the fourth inning for an 8-7 lead. Rob Porcelius delivered the key blow, a three-run triple.

The Corsairs, coming off two losses to Joliet Catholic, rebounded with a 10-3 win over St. Viator last week. Craig Weber was the winning pitcher, striking out three and walking three in five innings. Junior Shawn Chambers pitched the last two innings in relief.

Ricky Splitt led Carmel's 12-hit attck with a three-for-four game with a home run. Chris Walsch was also three-for-four and he contributed a double.

Carmel enjoyed early leads but St. Viator rallied to close the gap to Scott Stahoviak was perfect in five at bats in a doubleheader against Marist Saturday, but that was not enough for Carmel in the first game when he went two-fortwo.

The Corsairs were outhit in the opener 8-4.

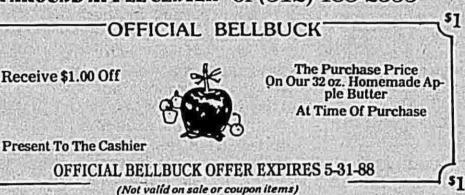

Carmel then took out its frustrations to gain a split with a 5-4 win in game two.

Widlcats' hitting atack subdues Blue Devils twice

When teams try and get into a slugfest with Libertyville, they usually come out on the short end of the stick.

That's what the Warren baseball team found out Saturday. They ran into a Wildcat attack which won the first game 12-6 and the second 7-2.

"They are a real good hitting club and you can't afford to give them that many baserunners," Warren Coach Ron Shelton said.

The losses dropped the Blue Devils to 7-9 in the North Suburban Confrence and 11-11 overall. The losses were particularily disappointing since the Blue Devils had beaten Lake Forest twice earlier in the week.

Warren could get just four hits in the first game against Libertyville, which pounded out 13.

But on the bright side, two were home runs. hits in as many at-bats inning shot gave the batted-in. Aaron White visitors a short-lived 2-0 lead. Mark Graham had sixth inning.

That brought the 'Devils to within 9-6, but the hosts erupted for three more runs in the later innings.

Libertyville, the visiting team in the second game, scored four in the first inning.

Warren scored a run in the second in an inning started when two batters were hit by pitches.

In the fifth, Chris Lux walked and scored later on a wild pitch.

Against the Scouts, the Blue Devils won both a high-scoring affair and a tense contest.

The Blue Devils belted out an even dozen hits in a 10-8 win in the first game. Shelton led the offense, collecting three Derek Shelton's first and had three runswas the winning pitcher.

Graham's single a roundtripper in the scoring Dave Davis in the fourth inning was all the 'Devils needed two days later in a 1-0 win. Alan Crouch was the winning pitcher, striking out three and walking two in registring the shutout.

Earlier, defensive miscues cost the Blue Devils a sweep of Fenton. Warren won the first game 11-5 but lost the second 6-5.

White was the winning pitcher in game one, allowing five hits and striking out eight.

The Blue Devils pounded Fenton pitching for 13 hits. Brent Howard was two-for-two with four runs scored. Shelton was two-for-three with four runs-batted-in and Davis was two-for-four with an RBI.

Fenton led 3-0 early. but Warren scored four runs in the first inning and was never headed.

Your Kids Have Friends

When kids are scared or hurt, and there's no one else around, there ought to be someone nearby who cares. Well, we care. And we're often nearby.

So, in 1985, our 18,000 Commonwealth Edison employees became the C-Team. The idea was to help kids like Jason Jerde, who suffered a head injury in a bicycle accident in DeKalb. Fortunately, lineman Mark Minnihan was working in the area. He radioed for an ambulance and stayed with the boy until it arrived.

Nothing extraordinary. Just a little care and concern. But President Reagan didn't see it quite that way.

When he was told about the program, he awarded the C-Team a citation for finding innovative private solutions to public problems. Talk about friends in high places.

Because MANPOWER has perfected a unique disk-based training technique that trains quickly—comfortably—and effectively. It's friendly to users because it was designed by users.

THIS WEEK'S

, HOROSCOPE,,*

BY SALOME Weekly Tip: Take steps to ensure perfection.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr 19) Gifts, money, letters: All may be coming your way. Show your originality and you'll gain financially. Not a good time to sign papers or make changes.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) A friend needs you to cheer him up. Consult your family when making personal decisions. Opposition may tempt you in wrong directions now. Gemini (May 21-June 20) A schedule will help keep things in order. You may be in the right place at the right time for personal profit. Romance is in the air, so be alert!

Cancer (June 21-Jul 21) A message may bring disappointment, but your business affairs are looking up. Keep an eye on your health status. Avoid all quarrels at home and work.

Leo (Jul 22-Aug. 22) The intuition you have could be right on target. You may need a change in atmosphere, so get a trip planned quickly. Stay away from large gatherings.

Virgo (Aug. 23.-Sept. 22) There could be some unpleasant times ahead. Get the necessary groundwork done for your big project. Dress well and take pride in your appearance.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct 22) Personal matters remain at a high level and give you reason to be in a happy mood. Business interests may hit a slack period, but this shouldn't last.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Handle the details of any project yourself. Avoid careless delays. It's best to stay home for now and enjoy your loved ones' company. Don't criticize.

Segittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Neighbors are playing an in-creasingly large role in your life. Take care to be understand-ing and kind and all will be fine. Avoid family squabbles.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Stay cool and calm under the immense pressure facing you. Troubles should not be worried over; they should be resolved. Family is a diversion.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Others may be on the edge, so stay balanced now. Things smooth out if you don't add fuel to the fire. Watch out for someone asking lots of questions.

Pieces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) A new and important responsibility may be given you. Admiration from others lifts your stand-ing in a superior's cyes. Look and do your best everywhere.

If you were born this week, you face many stumbling blocks along the path of life, but also have the capabilities to overcome most of them. Remember that you shouldn't believe everything you hear, but make a note of the source; this will often tell you what others are saying when you're not around! ©1988, McNaught Synd.
